

LEGAL STUDIES

Program Description

If you're interested in being a part of an exciting profession that impacts every area of our lives, then becoming a paralegal or legal assistant is the right career for you. What does a paralegal or legal assistant do? They support attorneys by doing important legal tasks, including assisting attorneys during trials, organizing and managing case files, conducting legal research, preparing legal briefs, filing legal documents, and interviewing clients and witnesses. The Legal Studies program will challenge you intellectually and provide the skills needed to work in this exciting field.

In the Legal Studies program, we study law to understand the foundation our society is built upon, the laws created to protect us, and the rules we are bound to respect. We learn to think critically about current legal issues and develop skills needed to work under the direction of an attorney. According to the Department of Labor, as more people will require additional legal services, the demand for paralegals is expected to grow faster than the average for all occupations through 2024. Also, if you already have an Associate's or Bachelor's degree in any area, this program can provide you with the legal basics needed while you're building upon the areas you've already completed. The Legal Studies Certificate Program provides you with an educational foundation to help you transfer to a pre-law program or related field of study and to work in all areas of the legal system, including courts, law firms, and government agencies.

* Paralegals may not provide legal services directly to the public except as permitted by law.
